The gentle emotion of the Native American flute combined with a guitar and warm blended harmonies is what Spirit Wing can deliver. Barbara Andrews-Christy and Barry Lee have performed through much of the United States. Nominated five times for a Native American Music Award, Spirit Wing brings the spirit of a people and an undying respect for what has come before us.

“Much of Spirit Wing’s music can be described as peaceful with a spiritual or historical message. The Native Flute, with it’s fluttering rounded sound was at times mournful, casting a spell on it’s listener.”
